

Jerry Duchatelier

Community Liaison

Griswold Care Pairing

Who is Jerry? I'll tell you who he isn't. He isn't being chased around by a tomcat all day or selling pints of ice cream. He's never starred in a self-titled sitcom or hosted a self-titled talk show. Neither has he played for the 49ers or owned the Dallas Cowboys.

This Jerry is a dedicated father of two girls, Leiah (LAY-UH) and Lorei (LO-RAY), who has called South Florida home since 2002. Originally from New York, his career path has been diverse, from completing LPN school to working in operations management before transitioning to marketing. In his free time, Jerry enjoys reading, cooking, and solving crossword puzzles. If faced with a life-or-death situation requiring a perfect skill execution, he would choose phlebotomy.

As a Community Liaison for Griswold Care Pairing for Broward County, Jerry is dedicated to connecting our county's senior population to tailored care solutions, enabling them to age in place and live assured.

Jerry's favorite aspect of working with seniors is hearing their stories and memories, whether it's reliving joyful moments or discussing historical events they've experienced firsthand.
